

NOTES OF THE SCHOOLS

The first calendar month of the year is one of the busiest of the school year. With the Christmas holidays, an unbroken month of strictly scholastic work closes the first semester and leads to the midyear promotions, which now form an integral part of the school system. This necessitates reorganization, and an onward step for most of the boys and girls in the schools.

Actual promotions will be made on Monday, February 1, but a week before that date lists of promotions are submitted to Assistant Superintendent E. R. Thurston to facilitate an uninterrupted plan of school activity. Where pupils have failed to be recommended for promotion to high schools, they will be given another opportunity to "make good" by taking what is known as the "principal's examination." If they so desire, announcement of the time and place will be made later.

Ernest H. Daniels, member of the Board of Education, last week continued his plan for visiting all of the schools in the District by personally greeting in their school room, each teacher of the third division.

Western High School entertained the parents and friends of the school on Thursday afternoon between 3 and 6. More than 300 guests attended the reception.

Work on the new Normal School is working completion, though an infinite number of minor details and changes in interior arrangements are yet to be adjusted. Some of the rooms will be used by pupils of the Ross School after February 1, but it is not until later before the normal students will leave their old home at the Franklin and give their new home at the beautiful new building. Even then, the "terrace schools" will remain at present, and normal girls will continue their practice work at the Franklin, Seaton, and Thomson schools.

The Carberry Club entertained its Mothers' Club on Friday afternoon, and in the evening the initial meeting of the Carberry Alumni Association was held. This is an original venture in alumni associations, and doubtless will keep bright the memories of those who do not take the high school course, in touch with old school friends and teachers. The meeting was held at the Carberry Club, and a long list of old "grads" put down their signatures for membership in the association.

Clara Ascherfeld, pianist of the Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, delighted the pupils of Eastern High School on Monday last with an artistically rendered programme of piano classics. Her technique was fluent and accurate, and her interpretation both sympathetic and masterful.

The League for Decoration of School Buildings has had some particularly praiseworthy improvements made in the Dent School during the recent holidays. Halls and stairways have been redecorated and the principal's room and teachers' rest room provided with pictures and attractive draperies. On Friday Miss Annie M. Wilson, director of drawing, gave a talk on the importance of art in the home, and Miss Wines, who has been in charge of the art department, gave a talk on the importance of art in the home.

Mrs. Arthur Bean, whose husband is in charge of the Phillips Brooks center for Harvard students, was a visitor in the schools during the week. As Miss Ruth Richards who will be pleasantly remembered as a former teacher in Langdon.

The teachers of the Arthur School welcomed Miss B. R. Howell to her new position among them by an informal luncheon Wednesday.

At the meeting of supervising principals, held at the Franklin Building last Thursday afternoon, the much-talked-of revision of "home study" for the year was discussed; its kind, the amount of time spent in preparation, the desirability of independent thought, and original research.

A girls' athletic meet was held in the gymnasium at Central High School Friday afternoon. In the basketball contest the First Junior team was the victor. Running goal football, games of various kinds, and events planned for the exhibition kept the interest alert of the audience of friends and family who had assembled to see the sport.

Every five extracurricular in the schools has been discharged, examined, and recharged with chemicals, and a tag bearing the date of re-charging attached to the extinguishers. During the past week all of the extinguishers were assembled at Central High School hall, where Mr. N. Robinson, of the fire department, gave them explicit instructions regarding the care and use of the apparatus. A fire was built in a yard and he demonstrated the quickest and best way of extinguishing it.

The Eastern High Home and School Association met in the assembly hall Friday evening with a good attendance. A social and musical programme was the order of the evening.

Dr. M. Louise Strobel gave an especially helpful and interesting talk to the mothers of the Blair School children Thursday afternoon, on the "Problems Connected with Young Children." The attendance was the largest of the year, and the interest keen in the medical aspect of ordinary troubles with little children.

The Technical Alumni Association has organized an employment bureau in charge of Mr. L. W. Matern, of the school. Its object is to bring the seeker of positions to touch with the employer. A list of vacancies is kept up to date, and graduates are notified of available positions as soon as they are listed. It is one of the most cooperative schemes of helpfulness employed by this school to keep its graduates in touch with their alma mater.

Midyear graduating exercises of the Central High School class will be held at the school February 3. Class night exercises are scheduled for February 2, and the class dance will be held January 24. One of the features of graduation at Central is the cessation of school work during the last week of the graduates' stay at "old Central." The closing days of freedom are given pupils to give added opportunity for school association and fraternal spirit. The officers of the February class are: S. Wintner, president; Theodore Seib, vice president; Marion Nichols, secretary; and W. H. Naltn, treasurer.

Teachers' Aid and Amity Association met in the Board of Education room last Thursday afternoon and made arrangements for the annual business meeting to be held at the Franklin School January 13, at 10 o'clock. This is the most important session of the year, when all reports are made, claims settled, and monies reinvested where necessary.

Eastern High School Dramatic Association ran to really dramatic heights in the two scenes of classical dramas, with which it entertained its audience in the assembly hall of the school Wednesday afternoon. Scene III, from the second act of "Midsummer Night's Dream," was cleverly drawn by the cast of six young ladies: Misses Appoll, Chapin, Cook, Hunt, Little, and Von Preuss. In the quartet scene from the "School for Scandal," Miss Helen Lockwood, whose talent for dramatic art is unusually marked, secured the center of the stage and gave a performance in every way worthy of a professional.

THE WASHINGTON HERALD, SUNDAY, JANUARY 12, 1913.

Dr. Rebecca Stonorod, director of physical culture, addressed a capacity audience at the Van Buren School on Thursday, it being the occasion of the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association. She pointed out the various means employed in the daily school curriculum for the improvement of the general health of the children. A group of children went through a manual of physical culture exercises, closing with folk dances of the nations. Dr. Stonorod is planning for an outdoor spring meet for girls this year.

The meeting of the Special Child Club will be continued this month, on account of the special work which is being made at the Morse School.

Central Home and School Association, which conducted the schools of the fourth division, will hold its meeting at Grover Cleveland Hall on the evening of January 21.

The "Last of the Mohicans" will be presented by the Dramatic Association of Central High School the first week in February. Indian songs and dances, with costumes and settings in keeping with the play, are being perfected by the cast, under the instruction of Mrs. Elizabeth Walton and Prof. Halstead P. Hoover. In April the dramatic club will give several scenes from Shakespeare.

"Resolved, That a tariff for revenue only is beneficial for the United States" was the resolution discussed by the Daniel Webster Club at its meeting Friday afternoon. The affirmative was upheld by Harry Vandervip and Rosa Ramsey, the negative by Mildred Horn and Theodore Fennell. Mr. Roland Reed, editor-in-chief of Balance Sheet, read extracts from the Prophet.

Company D, of Business High School, will hold its dance at Mrs. Dyer's on the evening of January 18.

Miss Merrill spoke on the benefits to girls of the newly organized order of Campfire Girls before an interested audience at Eastern High School Friday evening. The Campfire Girls served refreshments.

The Philomathean Society of Central High School elected officers at its meeting Friday. Miss Mary Liebeck, literary editor of the Review, read a paper on "Happiness," and E. C. Umer read an essay on "Constitution with Woman." The society is in charge of Misses Belt and Karples.

Tech's minstrel show, which will be on the boards about the middle of March, and great preparations are being made for a show that will outlast that of last year. In addition to the show a musical comedy, which will be given in one of the South American republics, will be given. Performances are to be held on two successive evenings, and tickets and reserved seats will be put on sale as early as possible.

For some weeks past one of the enterprising girls of Eastern High School has been working on a device for holding pens, pencils, car tickets, and money, which are difficult things to keep track of for girls, as they are constantly with the voluminous pockets found in boys' apparel. The design is a collarette, with stretched compartments for the various articles, and may be easily and cheaply worn by any girl with a knack for needlework.

The bi-weekly bulletin, now identified with the title of Tech News, has proved a great success, and hereafter will be regularly printed at an outside office. It contains the gossip of the school and is partly responsible for the largely attended track meet, held Thursday, when eighty-five boys were present.

During the week of Hanford's production, Shakespearean plays, February 24, McKinley Manual Training School Alumni will give a benefit performance.

Armstrong basketball team was defeated by the Cardinals last Thursday, the score being 12 to 8.

The petition of the citizens of Burville for the equipment of a playground in the new building as a classroom has been denied by the Commissioners on account of the difficulty in heating the playground and lack of funds available for the purpose.

Teachers of the Garfield School will give a concert next week to fit out the school with pictures and a graphophone.

As an extra award to help boost the balloting for Herald contestants, The Advocate will give to the person casting the most votes in the Merchants and Manufacturers' Contest between the dates of December 22, 1912, and January 15, 1913, a $500 Conover Baby Grand Piano.

Proctor Foster, the piano merchant, 1330 Broadway at Franklin Park, E. 10, has been named as the prize for the largest attendance at contest headquarters, 714 Thirteenth Street Northwest.

You don't have to be a contestant to win the piano. The contest conditions are that such votes shall be cast for some registered contestant, and shall be turned in not later than 9 p. m. on January 15.

Another sensational charge in regard to the treatment of the Crow Indians was turned out yesterday before the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs by Mrs. Helen Pierce, Gray, investigator of Crow Indian affairs. Mrs. Gray charged that Indians had actually been killed to get them out of the way. Senator Dixon and Secretary Fisher had made statements that were "deliberately false," she said, and added that if she were given the opportunity to present all her evidence, she would be seriously discredited.

Objection was made to the general nature of the charges, and proof demanded of Mrs. Gray. Secretary Fisher announced that he is ready to produce any evidence in his possession.
